Thank you to everybody involved with the organisation, and to the observers who today were Gods (and Goddesses). That was a wet day even for the mountain.

Apologies to those that were affected by the water. We did do everything we could and adjusted sections this morning, unfortunately the water rose even further than usual.

It's the first time in 8 years we've been so affected by it. We did get around 180 people to the finish, though and the responses were positive.

A lot of work goes in to it over the weeks and months building up to it, and we really do appreciate every helper and observer that makes it possible.

We hope you will join us next year, or for our Novogar event on the same land in September. (Including the clubman route aimed roughly at today's Inter route, probably slightly easier).
